SUMMARY

I build software that doesn't just work—it scales.

As a Senior Full-Stack Developer and Consultant, I help businesses transform complex technical challenges into clean, performant, and secure web applications. My approach combines rigorous backend architecture (Nest.js, Fastify, Prisma) with seamless, responsive frontends (Next.js, React).

Whether it's designing multi-tenant SaaS platforms, optimizing database performance with Redis and PostgreSQL, or streamlining development workflows in local Linux environments, I focus on delivering clean code and exceptional developer experience.
